

Second season impact at tomato's – UNICA* group (conducted by IFAPA)

Location	Almeria, Spain
Year	2017-2018
Plants	Tomato
Soil	Loam
Growth practices	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Standard local practice, head-to-head comparison with vermicompost (ca. 2 kg/linear meter), regular application NOVIHUM application rate ca. 0.5 kg/linear meter only one time prior to 1st season
Comments	1st season <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Similar total yield/higher amount of large fruits (Class I-G) after first season Significant higher BRIX values (+6%) after first season (means: sweeter fruits) 2nd season <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 14% more yield in second season Higher yield of high-grade yields

1st season data

Grade (Fruit) Kg/m ²	I-G	I-M	I-MM	I-3M	Green	III	Waste	Total
Marketable grades
Vermicompost	0,51	3,98	1,91	0,05		0,91	0,03	7,40
Novihum	0,63	3,82	1,83	0,02		0,91	0,03	7,25
Difference	+23,2%	-4,0%	-4,4%	-56,0%		+0,1%	+0,1%	-2,1%

2nd season data

Grade (Fruit) kg/m ²	I-G	I-M	I-MM	I-3M	Green	III	Waste	Total
Marketable grades
Vermicompost	0,56	4,10	1,54	0,17	0,02	0,57	0,02	7,01
Novihum	0,66	4,70	1,75	0,19	0,04	0,69	0,03	8,05
Difference	+17,5%	+14,2%	+13,2%	+12,7%	+50,4%	+18,6%	+45,3%	+14,3%

*<http://unicagroup.es/en/>

<https://www.juntadeandalucia.es/agriculturaypesca/ifapa/web/>